XXII General Assembly
Compostela Group of Universities

'From the Triple to the Quadruple Helix: The Civil Society as a Driver to University Innovation'

Universitat Jaume I, Castelló (Spain)
19-20 September 2016

Programme

Sunday, 18 September 2016

Arrival of participants

15.00 Welcome cultural excursion to Peñíscola

The tiny walled peninsula of Peñíscola looks firmly out to sea, from the gothic castle of Pope Pedro Luna (Benedict XIII). The citadel is crossed by winding cobbled streets and stairways, and surrounded by small buildings that used to be local fisherman's houses.
Broad sandy beaches and fertile lands border the north of the town; and the hills Sierra de Irta border the south. The landscape of the area is natural and beautiful. The southern stretch is lined by cliffs that extend down the coast to form attractive but difficult-to-reach coves.
